

The USAID FEWS-NET

Haiti Weather Hazards and Benefits Assessment

For
July 13 – 19, 2006

1. The last several months have been dry in sections of Haiti. Coastal portions of Artibonite Department and central areas of the Northwest Department have seen rainfall totals significantly below normal for the several months. The dry conditions have stressed crops and will likely reduce crop yields. Some rainfall during the previous period has moderated conditions in this portion of the island.

